

4th Meeting Notes -Counseling and Transition

Attendee: Sandra Pena and Leo Lynch co-chairs, Launa Prince, Delano Vasquez, Grace Quan, Adrina Viera, Andres E Cruz, Brittany Mejia, Jake Baldwin

Sandra and Leo initiated our fourth meeting by summarizing our last session, inquiring if members had watched the interview videos, and outlining our objectives for the current meeting.

The agenda included verifying the information and photos of all student panelists, as some submissions were still pending. We aimed to discuss the interviews further and refine the interview questions as needed. The Team planned to review the introductory slides and the best practices flyer for feedback and submit the necessary student information and pictures for the introductory slides.

We refined the blurb for the event as a collective effort. We gave special recognition to Raquel for initiating the process.

(Blurb)

What motivates students to persist? Join us to listen to our student panelists in a live discussion that will highlight student experiences with motivation and persistence. The student panelists will highlight their experiences as they navigate their educational and career goals, while making the connection from counseling support services to classroom instruction.

Furthermore, we discussed the logistics for the event, emphasizing the importance of the Team entering the Zoom meeting at 12:00 sharp for setup and mic checks. The Lunch with LARAEC Project event is scheduled to start at 12:30 pm on May 2.

We discussed appointing a timekeeper for the event to ensure we stayed on track. Leo volunteered to be the timekeeper. Sandra consented to create a script to keep us within our time frame.

The Team reviewed each interview video. We highlighted the best responses to particular questions. After reviewing all the interviews, we decided on the final student panelists and considered backup plans in case of any absences.

The meeting concluded with scheduling an additional meeting for 26 April 2024, at 12:00 1:00 pm to finalize our project.
